Allow a margin of 2" on each side of the design to allow for finishing. Before stitching find the center of the Aida by folding the fabric in half width-wise, then in half again length-wise. Use a thread to mark the folded corner as the center.

Once stitching is complete, trim excess fabric to within 1/2" of the outside line of stitching. Gently begin to remove threads along each side until the line of stitching is reached. If you prefer, you can leave several threads in place along the outside row of stitching.

Carefully wash item in lukewarm water and a mild detergent, then rinse well. Lay on a towel and pat with another towel to remove excess moisture. Lay right-side down on a dry towel and carefully press with a warm iron until dry.
